

Baltimore History Evenings

A free series of presentations and discussions about Baltimore.

Third Thursdays, 7-9 pm, January-June
Reception 7 pm, Presentation 7:30 pm

January 19, 2012

Protestants and Catholics in Pre-Civil War: A Message for Post- 9/11 America?

Michael S. Franch describes how antebellum Protestants and Catholics constituted separate communities. There was religious prejudice, but also reason for people of good will to be concerned about "the other." Every period is unique, but there are similarities to today's America.

Held at the Village Learning Place:

2521 Saint Paul Street

Baltimore, MD 21218

410-235-2210

www.villagelearningplace.org

Presented by:

BALTIMORE
CITY HISTORICAL SOCIETY